VOL. XLV Issue 1

FROM THE PRESIDENT

Neighbors,

Did anyone see the eagle flying over Queensberry Avenue recently? This summer did you see the baby foxes running around in the evening? If you're near the lake, you can hear a kingfisher's distinctive clicking sound. What a special neighborhood we live in, especially if you like wildlife and nature. As the county enters a deep budget crunch, we need to be prepared for service cuts across the county. Our elected leaders will have to make difficult choices in the months and years ahead. You should know that one of those cuts being considered is at our local parks, specifically Lake Accotink. The proposed cuts will eliminate all staffing and subsequent services and activities out of the lakeside parks. Our residents need to communicate with those leaders regarding the importance of continuing to staff and fund the activities at Accotink Park.

If you feel keeping the park open with proper staffing is important to you and your family, please send a note to the following elected and appointed officials:

Con't on Pg. 3

Did you see the flooding of Lake Accotink under Braddock Road and down at the Marina? Go to our website (www.ravensworthfarm.org) and view the photo gallery!

Directory Update Questionnaire Attached

Please be sure to complete the enclosed flyer to update your information for our annual community Directory. This is the only chance you'll have to submit this information!

Supervisor Sharon Bulova: braddock@fairfaxcounty.gov

Chairman Gerry Connolly: chairman@fairfaxcounty.gov

Winnie Shapiro: wshapiro@cox.net (Braddock District representative to the Fairfax County Park Authority)

It's my personal belief that instead of eliminating staffing, Accotink could use an increase in staffing. With an increased staff, Tawny Hammond, the Park Director, might be able to boost attendance and increase the Park's revenue. Lake Accotink is an extremely popular local park and we need to keep it staffed properly. See the article later in this issue for more information.

This is a special neighborhood and our close relationship to the park makes it so. Has anyone seen the beavers or river otter lately? Is that coyote still running around up near the Bouchard's house? If anyone catches any animals on camera be sure to email them to webmaster@ravensworthfarm.org to upload them to our community website. Maybe we could have a monthly "best animal" shot posted?

Hope everyone enjoys a fine fall season.

Thanks,

Brent Reynolds—President
Ravensworth Farm Civic Association
prez@ravensworthfarm.org, 1.571.214.9068

NEIGHBORHOOD THEFT

This summer a car on Nutting had a window broken, a GPS stolen, and the wallet removed from the car's glove compartment. This happened late on a Sunday night. Early Monday morning, a neighbor discovered the wallet on a nearby lawn and the police were called.

The police said people walk through neighborhoods looking at parked cars for evidence of a GPS. Even if it is hidden, the suction cup on the window is a tipoff. A GPS system is a very popular item to steal.

Be aware and keep watch around the neighborhood. Let's keep Ravensworth Farm safe -- report any suspicious people or events.

HOW DO I STOP MY NEIGHBORS FROM DUMPING OR ENCROACHING ONTO PARK LAND?

Please call the Lake Accotink Park Office at 703-569-0285 to report any possible illegal dumping or encroaching onto park land. The information will be forwarded to an inspector who will check the area and take appropriate action. It may also require the installation of a "No Dumping" sign.

BLOCK CAPTAINS URGENTLY NEEDED

The RFCA membership drive is starting soon and there is a need for Block Captains. So please do not delay, volunteer today. It is important that we have Block Captains to collect the Civic Association Dues and distribute the Neighborhood Directories. To volunteer please call Julia Johnson at 703-321-8845.

HOW TO SUBMIT ITEMS FOR THE FARMER

It's easy to submit items for the Farmer. How do you know when the deadline is? It's always the same day as our RFCA board meeting—usually the first Wednesday of the month. The easiest way to get something in the Farmer is email the editor: kathleen@ravensworthfarm.org or you can phone her at 703-321-7523.

WOULD YOU LIKE A WEEKLY PHONE CALL? (VOLUNTEERS ARE WELCOME, TOO!)

The Shepherd's Center of Fairfax-Burke announces its new "Friendly Caller" service starting in September 2008. Adult volunteers will place ongoing, friendly telephone calls to older adults in our community who wish this service. Our caring, dependable volunteers will arrange to call once a week at a regularly scheduled time for an informal chat. The focus is to let shut-ins know that someone is thinking about them, provide companionship and assist older adults in maintaining connections within their community. If you would like to participate in the program or are able to volunteer, please call the SCFB office at 703-323-4788. Training will be provided.

FARMER'S MARKET AT WAKEFIELD REC CENTER

As summer winds down, don't forget to get your fresh fruit and vegetables at our local Farmer's Market: Wednesday afternoons from 2:00 to 6:00 pm in Wakefield Park through October 29th. The baked goods, homemade ice cream and local produce will have you coming back for more!

POSSIBLE CLOSING OF LAKE ACCOTINK PARK

Did you know that the Park Authority is proposing to close the lakeside parks-- Lake Accotink, Fairfax, and Burke Lake? This means no boat rentals, camps, classes, concerts and other events. The staff would be moved to existing Recreation Centers and only a minimum of maintenance staff would come in to pick up trash and mow the grass. Besides the loss of the wonderful services and experiences at Lake Accotink, if the park is "abandoned", vandalism and vagrancy would likely increase.

What can we do about this? Contact our local leaders (see the President's letter for email addresses.) Or, attend a meeting and speak up for our parks! A series of public comment meetings have been scheduled on the budget this fall. Supervisors need to hear what residents value the most before they decide where to take budget cuts. Please go to the county website at <http://www.fairfaxcounty.gov/government/budget/publicmeetings.htm> to see the schedule, and help us get the word out about these meetings! Attend and tell the Board of Supervisors how important our parks are!

GUIDE TO INVASIVE PLANTS

The Fairfax County Park Authority has published "Non-Native Invasive ID and Control," a guide to the non-native plants lurking in borders and backyards.

The guidebooks feature 150 full-color photographs of common non-native invasive plants, natives and non-native look-alikes. The guidebook, featuring plastic cards bound with two steel rings, is washable with soap and water, making it a durable, backyard tool.

The cards are divided into color-coded sections for vines, trees, shrubs and herbaceous plants. Both the common and Latin names are given for each species.

Tips are provided for control and eradication of non-native invasive plants on personal property, as well as seasonal information such as when you might expect to see flowers and fruit.

Park Authority staff and volunteers worked closely with county residents over the past two years to compile the information for this much needed guidebook.

The guidebook is available for purchase at nature centers for $9.95, and also can be purchased by calling the Natural Resources Hotline at (703) 324-8580.

A LOOK BACK AT BRADDOCK

Space is limited to 42 participants due to bus capacity. Advance ticket purchase required. Cost $20 per person. Tickets will be for sale at the Braddock District Office (cash and check only), Lake Accotink Park Headquarters (credit card and telephone orders also accepted), and, if still available on October 4th, at the Oak Hill Open House. For further information contact the Braddock District office, 703-425-9300, <http://www.fairfaxcounty.gov/braddock> or Lake Accotink Park, 703-569-0285, <http://www.fairfaxcounty.gov/parks/accotink>.

WHAT IS A CHAMBER OF COMMERCE?

Encyclopedia Britannica sites a chamber of commerce as a voluntary organization of business firms, public officials, professional people and public-spirited citizens primarily interested in publicizing, promoting and developing commercials and industrial opportunities in their area. Chambers may also participate in programs that improve community schools, streets, housing, fire and police protections, and public park facilities.

The first chamber of commerce was formed in Marseille, France in 1599. In 1768 the New York state chamber became the first to form in the U.S. Today there are chambers in most major economic centers in the U.S. and Europe.

Also known as a trade association, chambers of commerce serve as a larger voice for their members on issues of common interest including, but certainly not limited to, legislative affairs. Most chambers are private entities governed by a board of directors elected by the membership. Generally the board serves without any pay and sets organizational policies. Membership dues are usually determined by the board based on budgetary needs.

Chambers will often form public-private partnerships for the betterment of members and the community as a whole. Transportation and taxes continue to be key issues for chambers in the Washington D.C. area. The Greater Springfield Chamber of Commerce, located in southeast Fairfax County, was organized for the purpose of bringing businesses together in the Greater Springfield area for the purpose of developing and promoting business opportunities for the benefit of our community. Any corporation, partnership, person, or association may apply for membership. Our membership includes both minority and woman-owned businesses and ranges from restaurants to hardware stores, government contractors t florist shops, Web site developers to utility companies, community banks to professional services.

Are you not being heard? Do you need help taking your business to the next level? Are you aware of the growth coming to the Greater Springfield area? As a volunteer organization dedicated to promoting the cause of business, we represent and advocate for our members. We campaign for good roads and redevelopment of business, we represent and advocate for our members. We campaign for good roads and redevelopment of our commercial areas. We provide means to unlimited networking opportunities, resources through our Web site, and educational programs for our members. Image, our print edition newsletter is published bi-monthly and weekly electronic news is used to keep members up to date with Chamber events and initiatives.

To benefit the community, and in return our business members, the Greater Springfield Chamber gives scholarships to area students and facilitates partnerships between local businesses and Fairfax County schools. During the cold months Chamber member businesses serve as drop-off locations for winter clothing and food donations while still more businesses adopt families through area social service organizations.

The Chamber sponsors a variety of business friendly activities. For more information about Greater Springfield Chamber of Commerce events or to sign-up for the Chamber's e-newsletter, visit www.springfieldchamber.org.
